

Instructions:

Here's an easy way to make your centerpiece with the bottle standing upright.

Add the filler material about 1/2 way up the bottle.

Arrange the leaf picks and vines in the top opening. Leave some vines hanging down.

Set the bottle on the plate. Use hay bales to make a second tier between the top of the bottle and the platter. Scatter the pumpkins, gourds, apples around the base of the jug and bales. Add additional fall items and vines as needed.

Tie a raffia around the neck of the jar. Trim the ends.

If you will have guests sitting on either side of the table, if possible, don't want the centerpiece to be too tall.

Lay the bottle on its side on the plate. Be sure to position hay bales or gourds so that the bottle doesn't roll. Place your decorations around the jug.
